Cincinnati is the 5th most segregated city in the country.

60% of extremely low-income households spend more than 50% of their income on housing.

72% of jobs in the region pay less than a self-sufficient wage.

3 out of 4 children living in poverty live in single, female-headed households.

In Cincinnati, if you are born into the lowest quintile of income, you have less than a 5% chance of rising to the top quintile.

Conditions of Thriving Communities

- We live in a community where all families are strong and empowered.
- All schools are strong and well resourced.
- Everyone has access, voice and ownership in their communities.
- The majority of jobs pay livable wages, and families can build savings.
- A community rich with arts and culture that is accessible to and reflective of everyone.
